EDUCATION

Scrimba (Frontend Career Path)

12/2023 - Present

An online bootcamp in web development aimed at acquiring fundamental skills for becoming a frontend developer engineer. Enriched with extra modules, guides, and practical learning through personal projects and reference materials.

Anton Bruckner Privatuniversität (AT)

10/2014 - 03/2020

Courses of jazz music (drums as main field) while also gaining experience in the technological aspects of music/video production and sound engineering.

ABOUT ME

As a self-motivated learner, I thrive on translating imaginative concepts into practical and captivating applications. My skill set encompasses React, Tailwind CSS, Astro, SASS, and more, all while adhering to industry-leading practices in UX/UI design. I take pride in delivering clean, contemporary, and easily comprehensible code. With previous experience in e-commerce and proficiency in no-code/low-code platforms such as Webflow and Wordpress, I offer a well-rounded background. These diverse experiences have shaped me into a versatile individual with a passion for innovation and an insatiable appetite for ongoing growth. I'm enthusiastic about bringing this diverse skill set to your team and contributing to our collective success.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Part-time music school teacher & IT consultant   2021 - Present

ZUŠ Frenštát p. Radhoštěm

In addition to my music teaching responsibilities, I've developed a ticket reservation system (WordPress) and initiated various digital enhancements within the organization. I also engaged in occasional sound engineering tasks.

Freelance no-code development   2021 - 2023

Various clients

Developing a keen interest in web development in my free time, I've delved into designing and launching websites utilizing no-code tools, primarily Webflow and Wordpress. This experience has sparked my curiosity in frontend development, driving me to explore and learn more in this field.

Selected projects: chiradamcik.cz, vladimirjavorsky.cz, marabell.cz

Digital marketing & freelance musician   2020 - present

Mamtex.cz, various music projects

Working part-time as a digital marketer with a hands-on approach to technical aspects (e-mail automation, HTML/CSS modifications) in e-commerce, while simultaneously achieving international recognition as a successful and award-winning jazz musician (Anděl Awards winner and many others).
